The information provided in the GridVis Help Guide is offered without any warranty. Janitza electronics GmbH excludes all other guarantees, whether express or implied, including the guarantee of merchantability or suitability for a specific purpose. In no instance can Janitza electronics GmbH and/or their respective partners be held liable for damages of any kind, including direct, indirect, accidentally incurred damages, or secondary damages, effects of lost profit or special damages, even if Janitza electronics GmbH and/or their respective partners have been notified of the possible occurrence of these damages. Because the exclusion or restriction of liability for accidentally incurred damages or secondary damages is not permitted in some states/jurisdictions, the above limitation may not apply for your case.
